

[GIA Wine Bar Project]

Melbourne-based design practice Hecker Guthrie's work spans residential, hospitality, retail and commercial. Principals Paul Hecker (pictured) and Hamish Guthrie bring a wealth of experience, understanding and flair to the projects they tackle, never more so than the moody Gia restaurant and bar in Jakarta, Indonesia, in collaboration with senior designer Sarah Wolfendale. Patterned stone and marble are anchored by dramatic light fittings. Murano glass screens divide the sophisticated space, lending a sense of intimacy as well as transparency. heckerguthrie.com
